

APPENDIX A

About the Authors

Domingo Amuchástegui is a graduate of Havana University, Florida International University, and the University of Miami. Author and co-author of a dozen books in Cuba and the United States as well as hundreds of articles and scores of essays. Chief analyst in the field of Cuba's foreign policy. Fact-finding missions throughout Europe, Asia, Africa, the Middle East, and Latin America. He has been a Political Analyst at CubaNews since 1994.

Rolando Anillo was born in Santiago de Cuba and graduated cum laude from the University of Havana Law School in 1988. Since his graduation thesis about the Associations Between Cuban and Foreign Entities, Mr. Anillo has been involved in the research and study of Cuban laws and regulations. Mr. Anillo specializes in U.S.-Cuba Federal Regulations, Cuban Law and International law and is admitted to practice law in Cuba and in the United States. He is an active writer and speaker on legal topics regarding U.S.-Cuba laws and regulations and he is the President of the Cuban Claims Owners' Association, a not-for-profit organization created with the purpose of providing updated information and analysis on the Cuban legal and economic situation.

José Azel, Ph.D., is a Senior Scholar at the Institute for Cuban and Cuban-American Studies, University of Miami, and the author of the book Mañana in Cuba.

Larry Catá Backer is W. Richard and Mary Eshelman Faculty Scholar & Professor of Law and International Affairs, Pennsylvania State University.

Orlando Brito was an intelligence official for Cuba's Directorate of Intelligence (DGI), Ministry of the Interior, from 1985 to his desertion in 2002. During that time he also worked for Cuba's Ministry of Foreign Relations.

Paloma Checa-Gismero (Madrid, 1985) is an art critic and student in the PhD program on Art Theory, History, and Criticism at the University of California, San Diego. Her graduate research studies the inclusion of community based art practices in art biennials, with a focus on case studies in Cuba and the Mexico-US border in the 1990s.

Lisa Clarke is currently studying Spanish Language and Linguistics as a graduate student at the University of South Florida. She has been teaching for 11 years as a Spanish Instructor at Calvary Christian High School in Clearwater, Florida.

Sergio Díaz-Briquets is a Northern Virginia-based international consultant focusing on governance issues.

Enrique García es consultor en seguridad internacional y analista político especializado en asuntos latinoamericanos. Licenciado en Derecho de la Universidad de la Habana, fue por once años oficial oficial de la Dirección General de Inteligencia del Ministerio del Interior de Cuba a cargo de las operaciones de inteligencia en Perú, Brasil, Bolivia, Chile, Paraguay, Uruguay y Ecuador. Es graduado de la Escuela para Especialistas y Jefes de la KGB (Moscú) y de la Escuela de Oficiales de la KGB (Moscú). Desertó hacia Estados Unidos en 1988.

José Gabilondo is Professor of Law, College of Law, Florida International University.

Mario A. González-Corzo is Associate Professor, Department of Economics and Business, Lehman College, City University of New York (CUNY)

Yvon Grenier (Ph.D. Université Laval, 1989) is Professor of Political Science at St. Francis Xavier University in Nova Scotia, Canada. He is the author of Guerre et pouvoir au Salvador (Les Presses de l'Université Laval, 1994), The Emergence of Insurgency in El Salvador (University of Pittsburgh Press and Macmillan, 1999), Art and Politics: Octavio Paz and the Pursuit of Freedom (Rowman and Littlefield, 2001; Spanish trans. for the Fondo de Cultura Económica in 2004), and co-autor with Maarten Van Delden of Gunshots at the Fiesta: Literature and Politics in Latin America (Vanderbilt University Press, 2009, 2012). He edited (selection of texts and introduction) a book of political essays by the Mexican Nobel laureate Octavio Paz, entitled Sueño en libertad, escritos políticos (Seix Barral, 2001). Professor Grenier was editor of the Canadian Journal of Latin American and Caribbean Studies and he is contributing editor of the magazine Literal, Latin American Voices.

Ernesto Hernández-Catá received his License in Political Science from the Graduate Institute of International Studies in Geneva, and his Ph.D in Economics from Yale University. He spent most of his career at the International Monetary Fund where he served as Associate Director of the African and the Western hemisphere Departments; manager of the World Economic Outlook; and chief negotiator with the Russian Federation. He was also chairman of the Investment Committee of the Staff Retirement Plan. At various times he taught at the Latin American Program in Applied Economics of The American University (macroeconomics) and at the School of Advanced International Studies of the John Hopkins University (economic development).

Joseph Humire is Executive Director of the Center for a Secure Free Society (SFS), based in Washington, D.C. He is a global security expert specializing in asymmetric warfare and eight-year veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps having served combat tours in Iraq and Liberia and taken part in multinational training exercises in Latin America and the Caribbean. Among several publications on security issues is his most recent book Iran's Strategic Penetration of Latin America published by Lexington Books in October 2014.

Alexis Jardines, Ph. D., es Académico Distinguido en Residencia, Cuban Research Institute, Florida International University.

Jung-chul Lee is Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Soongsil University, Seoul, Korea.

Wootae Lee is Research Fellow at the Korea Institute for National Unification (KINU), Seoul, Korea.

Luis R. Luis is an international economist in Massachusetts specializing in international finance and involvement. He has long been involved in international finance and investments as an officer of international organizations, commercial banks and investment management companies. Luis is a member of ASCE since its foundation. He holds a PhD degree in economics from the University of Notre Dame.

Luis Martínez-Fernández, Ph.D., is Professor of History at the University of Central Florida. His primary fields of study are the histories of Cuba, Puerto Rico, and Hispanics/Latinos in the U.S. His books include Fighting Slavery in the Caribbean (1998) and Revolutionary Cuba: A History (2014). He served as Senior Editor of the multi-award-winning Encyclopedia of Cuba: People, History, Culture (2003).

Emilio Morales es el CEO y presidente de la compañía consultora The Havana Consulting Group LLC, radicada en Miami. Es el autor de los libros Cuba: ¿Tránsito silencioso al capitalismo? y Marketing without Advertising: Brand Preference and Consumer Choice in Cuba y de numerosos artículos relacionados con la economía cubana. Anteriormente fue el jefe del Departamento de Planificación Estratégica de Marketing de la Dirección de Mercadotecnia de la Corporación CIMEX S.A, la empresa cubana más grande en el comercio mayorista y minorista en Cuba, la cual factura más de 1,000 millones de dólares anuales y atiende más de 35 líneas de negocios. Es graduado en ingeniería en Ciencias de la Computación en el Instituto Superior Politécnico José Antonio Echevarría en La Habana, y tiene un Masters en Marketing y Comunicación de la Escuela Superior de Marketing de Madrid y otro Masters en Marketing y Comunicación de la Universidad de La Habana.

Young-Ja Park is a research fellow at Korea Institute for National Unification (KINU), Seoul, Korea.

José Luis Perelló Cabrera es Doctor en Ciencias Económicas, Master en Gestión Turística por la Universidad de La Habana y Diplomado en Alta Dirección de Empresas Turísticas por la ESADE de Barcelona. Profesor Titular de la Facultad de Turismo de La Universidad de La Habana y Presidente de su Consejo Científico. Ha participado como profesor en Universidades de Centro y Suramérica. Ha impartido numerosos cursos de postgrado, maestrías y seminarios en Cuba y en el extranjero. Ha publicado varios libros y artículos en revistas especializadas nacionales y extranjeras. También ha participado como ponente en varios Congresos y Convenciones internacionales y nacionales. En la actualidad se especializa en temas de migraciones y desarrollo turístico.

Jorge F. Pérez-López is an international economist residing in Falls Church, Virginia. He received a Ph.D. in Economics from the State University of New York at Albany.

Larry Press is Professor Emeritus at California State University, Dominguez Hills, and author of a blog on the Internet in Cuba. He has worked on the Internet in developing nations since 1990 and wrote his first paper on Cuban networking in 1992.

Enrique Pumar is Chair, Department of Sociology, The Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C.

Ana Quintana is a Policy Analyst at The Heritage Foundation's Allison Center for Foreign Policy Studies in Washington. She leads the foundation's efforts on U.S. foreign policy towards Latin America. Ana specializes in U.S. policy toward Latin America, with an emphasis on Cuba, and concentrates largely on issues of democratic governance, security cooperation, and economic freedom.

Rosendo Romero Suárez is an art historian and professor based in Baracoa, Cuba. He has taught at the Baracoa-based branch of the Centro Provincial de Superación para la Cultura de Guantánamo. He is a recognized, award-winning expert in Baracoan and, more broadly, Cuban art. Rosendo is the producer of numerous events and exhibitions (in Baracoa and elsewhere in Cuba) that showcase Cuban painting, dance, music, and other art forms. He is a published author and experienced public speaker. Rosendo graduated from the University of Havana.

Jorge Luis Romeu obtuvo una Licenciatura en Matemáticas y Estadística por la Universidad de La Habana, y es doctor en Ingeniería Industrial e Investigación de Operaciones por la Universidad de Syracuse. Es C. Stat Fellow de la Royal Statistical Society (RSS), y Senior Member y Director de la Región II, de la American Society for Quality (ASQ). Romeu es Profesor Investigador de la Universidad de Syracuse y Profesor Emérito de la Universidad Estatal de Nueva York (SUNY). Es el creador y dirige el Proyecto JLM, así como imparte cursos de estadísticas y matemáticas aplicadas.

Zoila B. Romeu estudio educación en el Instituto Pedagógico Enrique José Varona de la Universidad de La Habana, e hizo una Maestría en Cultural Foundations in Education, en la Universidad de Syracuse. Tiene más de treinta años de experiencia docente en aulas secundarias de Cuba y EE.UU. especialmente en LaFayette H.S./NY, una escuela mixta, que sirve una substancial población indígena de la Nación Onondaga. Es la Directora de Programas Sociales del Proyecto JLM e imparte cursos de pedagogía.

Juan Tomás Sánchez es ingeniero civil, graduado de la Universidad de Miami, y licenciado para la práctica en el Estado de La Florida. Representa a la Asociación de Colonos (Cañicultores) desde 1998. Publica regularmente estudios sobre la industria azucarera y la agricultura en general en el Anuario de ASCE. Escribe sobre temas en Legislación Obrera y zucarera comparando a Cuba con otras áreas productoras. Mantiene informado al grupo de los principales participantes e interesados en una reconstrucción de la industria azucarera en Cuba en un marco de economía privada y estado de derecho. También, de los acontecimientos mundiales en los mercados y países participantes en el comercio y producción de azúcar y etanol, y de cogeneración eléctrica desde el bagazo.

Jorge A. Sanguinety, Ph.D. in Economics, worked in economic planning in Cuba in the 1960s. He is the author of Cuba, Realidad y Destino: Presente y Futuro de la Economía y la Realidad Cubanas, and numerous papers and articles on the Cuban economy.

Carlos Seigle is Professor and Chair, Department of Economics, Rutgers University, Newark, New Jersey.

Julio M. Shiling is a writer, political scientist, commentator, lecturer and Director of Patria de Martí. He has a Masters Degree in Political Science from Florida International University and is a member of the American Political Science Association, International Political Science Association and PEN Club. Born in Cuba, he resides in the United States.

Matías F. Travieso-Díaz, Esq., is a Retired Partner, Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP (Washington, D.C.). J.D., 1976, Columbia University; Ph.D.,

1971, Ohio State University; M.S., 1967, B.S., 1966, University of Miami.

Soren Triff, especialista en medios de comunicación y activista de la sociedad civil, enseña español y culturas hispánicas en Bristol Community College, Massachusetts, donde además dirige un programa de traductores e intérpretes. Recientemente estudió el papel de las humanidades digitales en la reducción de la pobreza. Triff ha sido distinguido como “extraordinary Latino educator” por Deval Patrick, gobernador de Massachusetts.