There are three ways to submit an abstract or paper to the ASCE Conference

Professional Sessions

For Professional Sessions (details at: <http://www.ascecuba.org/conferences/2018-asce-conference/2018-asce-conference-abstract-submission/>)

Abstracts, papers, and/or panel proposals should describe original work related to the economy of Cuba in a broad sense, including legal, sectoral, and social aspects of economic development. Abstracts must not exceed 250 words and must be accompanied by a 150 word biography for each author. Abstracts and biographies are to be sent via email to asce@ascecuba.org. For email submission include the words "ASCE CONFERENCE ABSTRACT - PROFESSIONAL" in the subject line. Authors of accepted papers will be required to register for the annual conference. Abstract submission deadline is May 22, 2018.

Student Competition

For the Student Competition (details at: <https://www.ascecuba.org/competition/2018-competition/>)

Full papers are now being accepted by the ASCE Student Award Committee the 2017 Jorge Pérez-López Student Award Competition. A panel of scholars will judge all submissions on the basis of relevance, originality, quality, contribution, and clarity of presentation. Papers should not be co-authored with an instructor or teaching assistant. At a minimum, all papers must outline a thesis statement, present evidence or data supporting it, not exceed 5,000 words double-spaced length, and follow one of the standard academic writing and citations styles. Graduate paper awards include a prize ($600 first place and $150 second place) plus an allowance for travel to the ASCE conference. Similarly undergraduate paper awards include a prize ($400 first place and $100 second place) plus a travel allowance for the ASCE conference. Full papers are to be sent via email to both asce@ascecuba.org and epumar@scu.edu. For email submission include the words "ASCE STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION" in the subject line. Please indicate whether the paper is submitted to the graduate or undergraduate competition. Abstract deadline is May 20, 2018.

Student Virtual Session

For the Student Virtual Session (details at: <https://www.ascecuba.org/conferences/2018-asce-conference/2018-asce-conference-virtual-session/>)

Abstracts are being accepted by the ASCE Virtual Session Committee in collaboration with Pepperdine University Graduate School of Education and Psychology's Scholarship without Borders. The virtual sessions will be administered through pre-recorded presentations released during the conference with a live question and answer period following the pre-recorded presentations. Participation will be virtual so physical attendance at the conference is not required. To be considered, students must be members of ASCE at the discounted student rate. To become a member of ASCE, please visit: <https://www.ascecuba.org/membership/apply-now/>. A panel of scholars will review the abstracts on the basis of relevance, originality, quality, contribution, and clarity of presentation. Abstracts must not exceed 250 words and must be accompanied by a 150 word biography for each author. In your submission, please indicate: 1) your contact information (name, email and phone number), 2) the university email address of someone who can verify your student status, 3) your current institution, 4) your degree program, 5) expected graduation date, and 6) the location of where you plan to participate in the live question and answer period in order to arrange back up telephone access. Submissions are to be sent via email to asce@ascecuba.org and m.strauss@wanadoo.fr. For email submission include the words "ASCE STUDENT VIRTUAL SESSION" in the subject line. Abstract deadline is May 20, 2018. Upon notification of abstract selection, students will be expected to provide a prerecorded video of their presentation using MP4 compatible video software. Videos will be posted on the ASCE YouTube channel for viewing after the meeting.
